ALEX G. SPANOS

Chairman of the Board

Alexander Gus Spanos is a shining example of how the American spirit of hard work and determination can pay off for those willing to follow their dreams. This spirit has led to great successes throughout every facet of his business and personal life. Only one goal has eluded his grasp — a Super Bowl victory for the San Diego Chargers.

"Playing in the Super Bowl was a tremendous feeling and accomplishment for this organization," said Spanos, "but I won't settle for second best. The only goal for me and this football team is to win the Super Bowl."

In 1984 when Spanos was offered the opportunity to purchase the Chargers, he put the decision to a vote before the board of directors of the A.G. Spanos Companies.

"The vote was 10 to two not to buy the ball club," he recalls. But the chairman used his veto power to overrule. "I told them, 'When you turn 60 you'll understand.'"

"I always believed in the pursuit of one's dreams," Spanos characteristically said in announcing his intention to buy the team. "For me, it has been a life-long goal to own an NFL team. In buying the San Diego Chargers, I've been able to realize a dream."

On Aug. 1, 1984, the dream became reality. Then 1992 brought the playoffs and the 1994 season brought the AFC Championship and the thrill of playing in Super Bowl XXIX in Miami, Florida.

"It was the greatest feeling I've ever had in my career," said Spanos. "What I enjoyed most was watching the fans enjoy it. The city deserved it. Our fans deserved it."

The greatest season in Chargers' history heralded a series of events which illustrate one man's unending dedication to the team and the City of San Diego.

Shortly after returning from Super Bowl XXIX, Spanos inked a new lease agreement with the city that insures San Diego will remain the home of the Chargers through the year 2020. The new agreement also provides for a new, state-of-the-art practice facility and an expansion and refurbishing of San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium to make it one of the country's finest facilities heading into the 21st century.

Spanos' commitment to San Diego was further made evident in a two-fold announcement in May, 1995.

The Alex G. Spanos San Diego Foundation was created and funded by Spanos to "help San Diego build on its strengths by supporting individuals, activities and organizations that work to make the city a better place to live." Simultaneously, Spanos announced that the first project of the Foundation would be a $1.5 million donation to kick off the $6.5 million fundraising effort for the San Diego Hall of Champions Sports Museum.

"My family and I are proud to be a part of the San Diego community," said Spanos. "I'm very fortunate to be in a position to help the city and the people who have been so supportive of me, my family and the Chargers over the years."

This offseason the Foundation kicked off its first major fundraising event with the "Bolt to Training Camp" 10k run and 5k fun run and walk. It benefited two facets of life closest to Spanos' heart — children and sports — as proceeds went to the local San Diego and Palomar Pop Warner football conferences.

Spanos' generosity again drew national attention this offseason when he came to the rescue of a California woman who was stranded in a Cambodian hospital after being badly burned in an accident while serving as a volunteer teacher. After he learned that the woman, a resident of his hometown of Stockton, California, had no money or medical insurance and was not receiving the proper medical care, he sent his private jet to bring her home.

In 1995, Spanos was honored by the Greater San Diego Chamber of Commerce and the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau and received their Chairman's Award for his contributions to the city and community. He received the Golden Achievement Award from the San Diego Boys and Girls Clubs, the group's highest honor for community involvement and youth-related support. California Governor Pete Wilson presented the award to Spanos.

Long before the team's fantastic Super Bowl season, Spanos' love for sports and San Diego have paid dividends for the City.

In 1993, Spanos is widely credited for using his influence with the NFL and its owners to land Super Bowl XXXII for the City of San Diego. The game, which will be played Jan. 25, 1998, in Jack Murphy Stadium, is projected to bring close to $300 million to the community.

He also was instrumental in bringing the 1996 Republican National Convention to San Diego, another financial coup for the City.

In 1994, he kicked off a fundraising telethon for the San Diego Olympic Training Center with a $100,000 pledge and challenge to the local community. His donation led to a successful effort to complete the first phase of the Southern California facility.

He also has been a strong supporter of high school sports in San Diego. Spanos annually sponsors the CIF San Diego Section football championships, allowing the games to be played in Jack Murphy Stadium. His backing of the San Diego High School Sports Association and the San Diego County high school all-star football game led to the game being named the Alex Spanos All-Star Football Classic.

He has donated substantially to benefit critically ill youngsters at Children's Hospital and Health Center in San Diego. In 1985, Spanos was chairman of San Diego Children's Hospital's first Miracle Network Telethon. In 1987, he served as chairman of the San Diego County Easter Seals Telethon and was chairman of the Loaned Executive campaign during the annual United Way/CHAD drive in San Diego County.

Throughout his ownership, Spanos has moved with strength and vision to form a solid foundation for success and build the Chargers into annual contenders for the AFC Western Division crown. The hiring of General Manager Bobby Beathard, one of the most respected football men in the National Football League, was hailed around the League. He has aggressively pursued and signed some of the top players in football. In 1994, he paid more in players' signing bonuses than all but one team. Spanos modernized and upgraded the team's summer training camp facilities with the state-of-the-art Alex G. Spanos Athletic and Recreation Building at the University of California at San Diego. An Astroturf field at the stadium practice facility was installed. He also completely renovated the team's locker room facilities and front office at the Stadium.

Spanos' commitment to the NFL was recognized when NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue named him to the League's Expansion and Realignment Committee in 1991. He helped develop recommendations on expansion issues which greatly affected the future of pro football. He also serves on the league's Legislative Committee.

In 1991, Spanos was invited by President George Bush to join him on a two-day goodwill trip to Greece and drew praise from the Chief Executive who singled him out as an American of Greek heritage who has achieved success in America. During an address to the Greek Parliament, Bush credited Spanos with making "a tremendous imprint in our country" and cited his continued efforts to promote stronger ties between the two countries.

And when America needed a helping hand, Spanos was there to deliver. He spearheaded the most aggressive fundraising campaign during the Gulf War crisis and delivered the most successful fundraising event in the history of the United Service Organization. As National Chairman of the U.S.O.'s Golden Anniversary Salute Luncheon April 5, 1991, in Los Angeles, he guided an effort which raised more than $4.5 million. He personally arranged for and presented a check for $250,000 to the U.S.O. on behalf of the NFL through NFL charities. The luncheon was attended by then-President Bush, former Presidents Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney, General Colin Powell, and the U.S.O.'s Ambassador of Goodwill, Bob Hope.

These moves demonstrate the commitment of a man who has carved a remarkable career in business and whose dedication to family and community have been an inspiring example for others.

Spanos was born September 28, 1923, in Stockton, California. He developed his tireless work ethic early, starting as an eight-year-old in his father's restaurant, rising before dawn to help prepare pastries before attending school. In 1951, Spanos borrowed $800, purchased a truck and set out on his own. He began his own catering business serving migrant farm workers in the San Joaquin Valley. Spanos later began investing in real estate and in 1960 formed the A.G. Spanos Construction Company.

Spanos is the founder and chairman of 11 companies bearing his name, including A.G. Spanos Construction, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Properties, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Management, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Development, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Enterprises, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Realty, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Marketing, Inc.; AGS Financial Corporation; A.G. Spanos Jet Center; A.G. Spanos Land Company, and The Spanos Corporation.

In the last 35 years, he single-handedly built a construction empire stretching across the nation. The A.G. Spanos Companies build, market and manage multi-housing units in 15 states. Since 1960, the companies have overseen the construction of more than 60,000 apartment units and over 2.5 million square feet of commercial property. Land development and the construction of master-planned communities are also part of the Spanos Companies' expertise.

Throughout his rags-to-riches life, Spanos has always treasured family and community above all else.

Though one of the nation's most productive corporate businesses, the A.G. Spanos organization continues as a family-run operation. Eldest son Dean serves as President/Vice Chairman of the Chargers and the Spanos corporate organization as well as Vice Chairman of AGS Financial. Son Michael manages the construction and development activities in the western and southeastern divisions of the company and is the Executive Vice President of the Chargers. Together, they are the driving force behind each business venture.

A son of Greek immigrants, Spanos' hard work and determination to succeed was recognized in 1986 as he was one of a select group of 80 Americans awarded the Ellis Island Medal of Honor by the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation and the New York Statue of Liberty Commission. In a special ceremony on Ellis Island, the honorees were cited for being "outstanding American citizens who have distinguished themselves in their respective fields of endeavor, while preserving the values of their particular heritage."

Spanos is Honorary Regent of the University of the Pacific and a Trustee of the Eisenhower Medical Center in Palm Springs. He was awarded a Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree by the University of the Pacific on the same day he gave the commencement address to the 1984 graduating class. In 1989, he received the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith's National Distinguished Community Service Award for devotion to community and concern for others.

Spanos also was the founder and driving force behind seven biennial fundraising "Evening of Elegance" dinners benefiting assorted children's charities including San Diego Children's Hospital and Health Center. Proceeds from the last "Evening of Elegance" held in 1985 topped the one-million-dollar mark.

Another side to this complex man was revealed with the help of his close friend Bob Hope. Spanos displayed an entertainer's talent and flair when he lived a childhood dream and danced on stage. Together, they sang and danced on numerous occasions both in the United States and abroad.

Spanos' acquisition of the Chargers culminated a lifelong interest and involvement in sports. He earned varsity letters in swimming and diving at the University of the Pacific in Stockton and later distinguished himself as an amateur golfer. Spanos was the first person ever to be on the winning teams in both the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Desert (1977) and the Bob Hope British Pro-Am in Epsom, England (1980). In 1987 Spanos was inducted into the Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame.

Alex and Faye have four children — Dean, Dea (Mrs. Ron Berberian), Alexis (Mrs. Barry Ruhl), and Michael — and are expecting their fourteenth grandchild in August. They maintain residences in Stockton and Palm Springs, California, and Tarpon Springs, Florida.

DEAN A. SPANOS

President/Vice Chairman

Dean Spanos has been running the San Diego Chargers since he took over as President/Vice Chairman in 1994. But his presence has been felt in the organization and in the San Diego community since the day his family moved to La Jolla, California, in 1984.

After his father, Alex Spanos, purchased majority interest in the team on Aug. 1, 1984, Dean was the man behind the scenes for the Chargers as he served as President of all Spanos corporate entities and Vice Chairman of the AGS Financial Corporation. While maintaining his role in the Spanos corporation, Dean now also carries the full burden of running the Chargers.

Spanos oversees the management and administration of personnel and fiscal matters of the Chargers. He also plays a prominent role in league affairs as he attends all league meetings.

When Alex Spanos turned the Chargers over to his eldest son in January, 1994, he had just one request:

"I said to him, 'Deno, the ball club is yours,'" said Alex Spanos. "You run it the best way you know how. Whatever your needs are, just let me know. All I hope for is to get to the playoffs." Now, could you imagine what a year we had. He took us to the Super Bowl in his first year."

General Manager Bobby Beathard is just as vocal in praising Dean's leadership and contributions.

"The guy that makes it all work for us is Deno," said Beathard.

Dean immediately took on the task of securing the Chargers' future in San Diego. He showed the Spanos family's commitment to San Diego by negotiating a new lease between the team and the City which provides San Diego with pro football and the team with a home for the next 25 years through the year 2020. The agreement also calls for plans to permanently expand the seating capacity of Jack Murphy Stadium to accommodate more than 70,000 fans and modernize the 30-year-old stadium. Also as part of the new deal, Spanos is overseeing the plans and construction of the team's new offices and practice facility which are expected to be among the finest in the National Football League. The new facility is expected to be completed in 1997 and the target date for the completion of the stadium improvements is January, 1998, when Super Bowl XXXII comes to San Diego.

"This new lease insures that both the Chargers and Jack Murphy Stadium will always be the pride of our community," Dean said.

In addition to his role with the Chargers, he doubles as President of all Spanos corporate entities and Vice Chairman of the AGS Financial Corporation from his office in Jack Murphy Stadium. He is responsible for all construction operations nationwide and all financial matters relating to the acquisition and development of projects for the Spanos organization. For the past 25 years, Dean has been working alongside his father in apartment construction and land development.

Dean attended the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California, from which he received a degree in business administration in 1972. He maintains close ties with his alma mater, having served as a Regent at the University.

Dean's busy career in business and the National Football League hasn't hampered his status as one of the nation's most successful amateur golfers. An avid golfer since his college years, he has been on the winning team in four Pro-Am tournaments, including back-to-back wins in 1990 at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic and the AT&T National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach where he teamed with partner Hubert Green. He also was on the winning team at the Hope Classic again in 1991. Spanos and Green won the Bing Crosby Pro-Am at Pebble Beach in 1985 where Dean was awarded the "Most Valuable Amateur" trophy for supplying the most help to his professional partner. Also in 1985, he was on the winning team in the Senior Players Reunion Pro-Am in Dallas with Billy Casper.

Dean Alexander Spanos was born May 26, 1950, in Stockton. He was an outstanding member of the Lincoln High School golf team in Stockton before continuing his golfing career at the University of the Pacific. Dean received the Lincoln High Hall of Fame Award which honors alumni whose contributions and accomplishments are representative of the school. He was recognized for his achievements in the areas of business and athletics.

Dean has become an integral part of the local community since moving to San Diego. He is on the board of directors of the San Diego International Sports Council, an elite group of San Diego business executives whose purpose is to promote and enhance sports of all kinds in San Diego. He has been a major contributor and supporter of the American Cancer Society in San Diego and the United Way. Dean also was co-chairman of the US WEST Cellular/San Diego Chargers Charity Classic benefiting Children's Hospital in 1993. He resides in La Jolla, California, with his wife, Susan, and sons, Alexander Gus (July 2, 1978) and John Dean (Nov. 7, 1979). A.G. is a freshman at Tufts University in Boston, Mass., where he is a member of the football team. He received six varsity letters as a two-sport athlete (basketball and football) at La Jolla Country Day School. John is a junior competing in basketball, football and golf at The Bishop's High School where he has already earned four varsity letters.

MICHAEL A. SPANOS

Executive Vice President

Michael Spanos, the youngest son of Alex Spanos, and Executive Vice President of all the A.G. Spanos corporate entities, assumed the same position in the Chargers' management team in 1995.

Michael, 37, assists Chargers President/Vice Chairman Dean Spanos in financial matters related to the ball club and relevant issues pertaining to the National Football League, which includes representing the Chargers at annual league meetings.

Michael has been executive in the Spanos corporate organization for 17 years. He is responsible for all activities in construction, property management and land acquisition in the Southeast United States and Northern California. Born in Stockton, California, in 1959, he attended Lincoln High School and then the University of the Pacific where he graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration.

In 1989, Michael was appointed to the Board of Regents at the University of the Pacific where he served for five years. He also served as a trustee on the Board of Dameron Hospital and is very active in the Greek Orthodox Church. He contributes both his time and resources to the church and many other charitable causes in his hometown of Stockton.

Michael and his wife, Helen, live in Stockton with their four sons — Michael, Christopher, Andreas and Thomas.

BOBBY BEATHARD

General Manager

34th NFL Season

7th Season with Chargers

The Sporting News asked NFL general managers and personnel men to name the best personnel man in the National Football League in 1995. Bobby Beathard received 13 of 18 votes. No one else got more than one vote.

After assembling playoff teams in three of the past four seasons, including the 1994 AFC Championship squad, Beathard continues to earn the respect of his peers throughout the league.

"Once you really get into (the Chargers') operation, it's clear why they win," said Rod Graves of the Chicago Bears. "Bobby's got a plan, a panacea for problems, and gets the right type of player."

"Bobby can see beyond what a kid has done in four years and project him to be a guy who can come out of the group and become a star," said Bill Kuharich of the New Orleans Saints.

When the 1994 San Diego Chargers earned a trip to Super Bowl XXIX in Miami, Florida, it marked the seventh time a Beathard team has journeyed to the World Championship. Four times his team has produced a Super Bowl victory.

Beathard's seven trips to the Super Bowl are the most in NFL history for a general manager and talent evaluator. The 1966 Kansas City Chiefs ... the 1972 and '73 Miami Dolphins ... the 1982, '83 and '87 Washington Redskins ... and the 1994 San Diego Chargers were all products of Beathard's handiwork. Though success has followed him through every step of his NFL career, Beathard remains one of the League's most low-key and well-liked personalities.

"He's the same now as the first time I met him in 1968," said New York Giants general manager George Young. "He's probably a little bit shorter, though, from all that running."

Beathard brought a sparkling reputation and a history of building champions to San Diego in 1990 and, after just five years on the job, built a team which won San Diego's first-ever AFC Championship and played in the Super Bowl. And despite facing the NFL's toughest schedule and playing in the league's toughest division, the Chargers returned to the playoffs following the 1995 season.

Beathard's stamp is clearly evident on the Chargers. Only one player remains on the roster who was with the team prior to Beathard's arrival: center Courtney Hall. The final 1995 roster consisted of 26 draft choices, 24 chosen by Beathard and his staff; 20 free agents (11 free agents, seven unrestricted free agents and two Plan B free agents); four players claimed on waivers and three players acquired by trade.

When Alex Spanos named Beathard general manager of the Chargers January 3, 1990, it brought hope to a city thirsting for a winner. He turned the NFL's oldest team of the 70's — the Washington Redskins — into one of the most successful organizations of the 80's. In just his third season in San Diego the organization won its first AFC Western Division championship in more than a decade and, after five years, appeared in its first Super Bowl.

With a proven plan to follow, he immediately set out in 1990 to bring top athletes with a winning attitude to San Diego. A tireless and aggressive approach to the NFL draft is a Beathard trademark. Acting with the same vitality and decisiveness that highlights his 34 years as a NFL talent evaluator, his judgement was on the mark in 1990 when seven players from his first draft in San Diego ended up in the starting lineup, including perennial Pro Bowler Junior Seau. Beathard made more strong moves in 1991 which allowed him to draft 14 players, including 12 who completed their rookie season with the Chargers. Eleven of his 13 selections in 1992 finished the season with the team, and all nine of the team's 1993 draftees returned in 1994. Five of the nine choices from 1994 and 11 of the 13 picks from 1995 are still with the team heading into 1996.

Leveraging tomorrow to help today also is a Beathard trademark. Since coming to San Diego in 1990, he has traded a future number-one draft choice to make a selection that year four times in seven drafts and he has struck gold each time. In 1991, Bobby traded San Diego's 1992 first-round choice to Washington for the forty-seventh pick in the '91 draft and selected starting guard Eric Moten. In 1993, he traded the team's first-round pick in 1994 along with a second-round choice in '93 to San Francisco for the 49ers' second, third, fourth and fifth-round choices and selected running back Natrone Means with the forty-first choice. In 1995 he traded the Chargers' first-round pick to Detroit and selected running back Terrell Fletcher with the fifty-first choice in the draft. This year, he sent the Chargers' 1997 first-round choice to Tampa Bay for the right to draft explosive wide receiver Bryan Still with the forty-first choice in 1996.

Beathard and the team's scouting and coaching departments have worked together to make the Chargers one of the NFL's most active and successful teams in recruiting and signing veteran free agent talent. The team landed immediate help in 1990 by signing Pro Bowl kicker John Carney, who is now the Chargers' all-time career record holder with 150 career field goals. The Chargers also struck quickly in 1994 with the signings of strong veterans to fill key areas of need. While other teams moved with uncertainty through the new era of free agency, Beathard helped land such prominent performers as defensive tackle Reuben Davis, cornerback Dwayne Harper and the late David Griggs.

Over the past two years, Beathard and his staff have continued to recruit proven veterans such as defensive end Marco Coleman and hard-hitting safeties Kevin Ross and Shaun Gayle, who was second on the Chargers in tackles in 1995.

Beathard has demonstrated a keen eye for talent since becoming a part-time scout with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1963. He left the Chiefs briefly to scout for the American Football League and returned to Kansas City full-time after the AFL-NFL merger in 1966 and earned his first championship ring as a member of the 1966 Chiefs' organization. Beathard then served as a scout for the Falcons, 1968-71.

In 1972, Beathard was named director of player personnel for the Miami Dolphins. The Dolphins won the following two Super Bowls. Then on February 24, 1978, the Redskins made Bobby their general manager and he ultimately showed the League that first-round draft picks were weapons to be used in trades. In his 11 years at Washington, the Redskins had only three first-round picks. They went to the Super Bowl three times and won twice.

Beathard's handiwork was apparent on all three Super Bowl teams, including the World Champion Redskins of 1982 whose roster included an astounding 27 free agents signed by Bobby since he joined the team in 1978. The 1983 squad, which finished 14-2, also made it to the Super Bowl. The Super Bowl XXII team that defeated Denver, 42-10, in San Diego.

Beathard left the Redskins to serve as a commentator for the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) on it's weekly "NFL '89" show during the 1989 season.

When Beathard joined the Chargers, he returned to the Southern California lifestyle in which he was raised. Born in Zanesville, Ohio, January 24, 1937, Robert Beathard, Jr., grew up in the Los Angeles area and attended El Segundo High. He moved on to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo where he played quarterback, 1956-58, and led the 1957 and '58 teams to consecutive 9-1 records.

Bobby and his wife, Christine, reside in Leucadia, California. Beathard is an avid runner, surfer and cyclist. He has run in dozens of marathons, including several Boston Marathons. The Beathards have four children: sons Kurt (Jan. 4, 1963), currently an assistant coach at Western Carolina; Jeff (June 9, 1964), a twelfth-round choice of the Rams in 1988 who is a scout for the Chargers; and Casey (Dec. 2, 1965) who scouts part-time for the Chargers; and daughter Jaime (Sept. 25, 1968). Bobby and Christine have eight grandchildren.

BOBBY ROSS

Head Coach

9th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

Wherever he has gone, Bobby Ross has always been one thing: a winner.

Under Ross, the San Diego Chargers have enjoyed four of the most memorable and winningest seasons in franchise history. Since Ross took over as head coach prior to the 1992 season, San Diego has made three trips to postseason play, earned two AFC Western Division titles, and played in the Super Bowl for the first time after winning the American Football Conference crown following the 1994 season.

Ross has a regular-season record of 39-25 (.609) as an NFL head coach. He also has posted a record of 3-3 in postseason play. From 1992-94, the Chargers' 30 regular-season victories were the most by the Chargers in a three-year span since 1979-81 (33 wins) and the third most-productive span in team history. In Ross' four seasons (1992-95) the Chargers have notched 39 regular-season wins, which is the second most-productive four-year span in team history and the most by the Chargers in a four-season span since 1978-81 (42 wins). Only Dallas (49), San Francisco (48), Pittsburgh (43), Kansas City (43) and Buffalo (40) have won more regular-season games over the last four years than San Diego. Miami also has won 39 games.

Ross' 42 overall victories as the Chargers' head coach ranks third on the team's all-time list behind Sid Gillman (87 wins) and Don Coryell (72). His three postseason wins are tied with Coryell for the most in team history.

Ross' regular-season winning percentage of .609 ranks fifth among active coaches behind Dallas' Barry Switzer (.777, 28-8), San Francisco's George Seifert (.768, 86-26), Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher (.672, 43-21) and Kansas City's Marty Schottenheimer (.636, 116-66-1).

Ross also has been a winner when it has counted most in the NFL: during the month of December. The Chargers have compiled a 12-5 record in games played in December since Ross joined the team in 1992. The Chargers were 4-0 in 1992, 2-2 in 1993, 2-2 in 1994 and 4-1 in 1995.

The 1995 Chargers were another vintage Bobby Ross team, one which triumphed over adversity and refused to give up when times got hard. Trying to defend the team's first-ever AFC Championship and still mourning the death of friend and team-leader David Griggs in a tragic offseason car accident, the Chargers found themselves at 4-7 late in the season and nearly eliminated from postseason contention. Once again Ross instilled in his team the will to win, spurring the Chargers on to five straight regular-season "must-wins," including road victories in the final two games. No game exemplified the 1995 Chargers more than the season finale at the New York Giants. In 36-degree temperatures and under a barrage of in-coming snowballs, San Diego struggled early and fell behind in the first half, 17-3. But Ross' team battled back for a 27-17 victory, giving the team its fifth-consecutive win and its third playoff berth in four seasons.

Ross' hard-charging leadership was never more apparent than in the 1994 squad. He took a team that was 8-8 the year before and was given little hope of escaping the AFC West cellar and proved that hard work, team unity and a never-say-die spirit are more than just coach-speak. After surviving an unforgiving five-game preseason schedule that included road trips to Canton, Ohio; San Antonio, Texas, and Berlin, Germany, the Chargers opened the regular season with six straight wins and the best record in the NFL. With the team slumping slightly due to a bundle of injuries to key positions, Ross kept the squad together and focused for the playoff run. The Chargers bounced back with two victories to finish the regular season with an 11-5 record and San Diego's second AFC West title in three seasons. Ross' relentless coaching style drove the team to postseason victories over Miami, 22-21, and Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship Game, 17-13, before Ross and the Chargers found themselves in the first Super Bowl in franchise history.

Expectations for 1993 were at an all-time high following the miraculous '92 season which saw the Chargers earn their first division title in 12 years. Perhaps expectations were too high for this young, up-and-coming team. But Ross' squad battled through a host of injuries and held their own against the NFL's second-toughest schedule — including the toughest division in football, the AFC West — to win four of their final six games and finish with an 8-8 record.

After two years on the job, 1992-93, Ross had led the team to 19 regular-season victories, the most by the Chargers in a two-year span since the 1980-81 teams won 21 games.

On January 2, 1992, San Diego Chargers general manager Bobby Beathard announced the selection of former Georgia Tech head coach Bobby Ross to become the ninth head coach in team history. Ross, whose ability to turn around college programs was well-documented, would be put to the test as he tried to reverse the fortunes of the Chargers who were coming off a last-place, 4-12 finish in 1991.

Ross' first season had an ominous beginning as starting quarterback John Friesz suffered a season-ending knee injury in the opening game of the preseason. Quick maneuvering landed quarterback Stan Humphries, but critics predicted trouble for the team which featured a new head coach, a new coaching staff and a roster made up of nearly one-third new faces, including a new quarterback.

The Chargers struggled early, but Ross kept a firm hand on the helm and continued to guide the Chargers without deviating from his original course. After four losses, Ross' motto of "perfect practices make perfect" began to take hold. Slowly a team whose confidence had been eroded by years of losing began to believe in itself and its new coach.

Under Ross, the Chargers caught fire and quickly became the Cinderella story of 1992. Despite losing the first four games of the season, Ross' squad won 11 of the final 12 regular-season games and won the AFC Western Division title. It marked San Diego's first AFC West title since 1981 and playoff appearance since 1982. His squad continued its winning ways with a 17-0 playoff victory over Kansas City.

San Diego improved immeasurably under the guidance of the NFL rookie head coach. The offense ranked sixth in the NFL in 1992, up from thirteenth in 1991, and made huge strides in the passing game which improved from twenty-fourth to seventh in the League. The defense jumped from nineteenth to fourth in the NFL, led by the AFC's top-ranked rushing defense. The team allowed 101 fewer points throughout the regular season.

Ross and the Chargers earned their niche in NFL history by doing something 132 teams previously could not do: start a season with four losses and have a winning record. San Diego was only the third team in NFL history to lose its first four games and win its next four games.

The Chargers' accomplishments under Ross did not go unnoticed, earning the head coach a host of postseason honors. He was named NFL Coach of the Year by United Press International, Pro Football Weekly, Football News, Football Digest, Maxwell Football Club, Kansas City 101 Banquet and the Pro Football Writers Association.

Ross has coached college or pro football for 30 years. He was a college head coach 15 of 19 years prior to coming to San Diego, interrupted only by four seasons as an assistant with the Kansas City Chiefs (1978-81). Ross' overall 15-year record as a head coach at The Citadel, Maryland and Georgia Tech was 94-76-2 (.552).

Before reversing the fortunes of the Chargers, the 59-year-old Richmond, Virginia, native turned around the Georgia Tech program and carried it into the national spotlight. He inherited a down-trodden program which struggled through a 5-20 mark before Ross' teams won 18 of their next 20 games and a share of the national championship in 1990 with an 11-0-1 mark. It was the football program's first-ever national championship and conference title, and Ross was a consensus choice nationally for coach of the year. He culminated his career at Georgia Tech with a 31-26-1 record, including a 26-6-1 record over his final 33 games. He finished his five-year stint with an 8-5 record in 1991 and a big 18-17 come-from-behind victory over Stanford in the Aloha Bowl.

In 1990, Ross directed Georgia Tech to the United Press International national championship as the nation's only unbeaten team at 11-0-1 following a convincing 45-21 win over Nebraska in the Florida Citrus Bowl. It was Tech's first appearance in a New Year's Day bowl game since 1966. Ross collected one of the biggest wins of his coaching career when Tech knocked off then-top-ranked Virginia, 41-38, in a nationally-televised thriller. The Yellow Jackets won their first Atlantic Coast Conference title in school history and their first national and conference championship of any kind since 1952. A consensus national Coach of the Year and the ACC Coach of the Year, Ross led Tech to a number-one ranking by UPI, The Sporting News and Scripps Howard Publishing.

Ross coached five successful seasons at the University of Maryland (1982-86) where his Terrapin teams were known for their explosive offenses that resulted in the unprecedented success in College Park. During that time, his Maryland teams compiled a sparkling 39-19-1 mark (.670) against what annually was one of the toughest schedules in Division I football. He guided Maryland to three ACC titles and four postseason bowl games. Ross left Maryland to become only the eighth full-time head football coach in Georgia Tech history.

Ross' Maryland teams produced a number of outstanding all-America talents, including quarterbacks Boomer Esiason, Frank Reich and Stan Gelbaugh.

In his first season at College Park, Ross was named ACC Coach of the Year and District III Coach of the Year after the 1982 campaign that saw Maryland post an 8-4 record and earn a trip to the Aloha Bowl.

His second Maryland squad in 1983 also recorded an 8-4 record and was chosen for the Florida Citrus Bowl. His 1984 squad posted a 9-3 mark, including a win over Tennessee in the Sun Bowl, and Ross' 1985 team also managed a 9-3 mark with a win over Syracuse in the Cherry Bowl.

Perhaps if there is any one game indicative of his all-out, never-say-die coaching style, it might be Maryland's thrilling, 42-40 win over nationally-ranked Miami in 1984. Making the greatest comeback in Division I history, Ross coached the Terps from a 31-0 halftime deficit to a last-second win over the Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl.

Robert Joseph Ross was born Dec. 23, 1936, in Richmond, Virginia, and was a three-sport letterman at Virginia Military Institute in football, basketball and baseball. He started at quarterback and defensive back for two seasons and served as captain of the team as a senior. Ross graduated from the Lexington, Virginia, school in 1959 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and History.

He credits his coach at VMI, John McKenna, with being the major influence on his coaching career. The retired coach and former Georgia Tech assistant athletic director knows Ross well.

"If all of the coaches in the country could be pooled for a draft," said McKenna on the day Ross was hired at Tech, "any school would do well to look at Bobby Ross closely and carefully. He's the best."

"You're talking about someone who went to a school where you could not lie, cheat or steal, and he lettered in three sports. He served in the military and he recruited and coached at very tough academic schools. He's an astute student of the game and he knows how to win, as a player and a coach. There's nobody better."

After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army as a First Lieutenant (1960-62) and four seasons of coaching on the prep level, he started his collegiate coaching at VMI in 1965. Ross then spent four seasons as an assistant at William and Mary (1967-70), one year at Rice (1971), and one year at Maryland (1972) before beginning his head coaching career at The Citadel in 1973.

Ross spent five seasons at The Citadel (1973-77) before leaving to become an assistant coach in the NFL under Marv Levy with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1978. He coached special teams and defense two seasons and offensive backs his final two seasons with the Chiefs. After four seasons (1978-81) with the Chiefs, Ross returned to the collegiate ranks as head coach at Maryland in 1982.

Ross is known for sharing a uniquely personal relationship with his players. During practice he's involved in all facets of the game. He enjoys teaching and usually can be found in the huddle with his team.

"I always take the approach with my players that I want to treat them with the same respect that I would give to my (five) children," Ross said when he joined the Chargers. "I'm straight-forward. I know how to look a player in the eye, eyeball-to-eyeball, and say what's on my mind.

"I consider myself demanding of everyone," he continued, "starting with myself. That doesn't mean I holler and scream and make players run extra laps. If discipline is detail and doing things right, then we're going to have a lot of that because that's what I believe in. If we don't do something right in practice, then we're going to repeat it. Practice doesn't make perfect. Perfect practices make perfect."

Ross and his wife, Alice, have five children — sons Chris, Kevin and Robbie and daughters Mary and Teresa — and will have ten grandchildren by the end of the 1996 season. All five of his children are college graduates: Chris (Air Force Academy - '84), Mary (Maryland - '85), Teresa (Loyola of Baltimore - '87), Kevin (Naval Academy - '88), and Robbie (Georgia Tech - '96). Robbie is currently working on his masters degree at Georgia Tech. Both Bobby and Alice are very involved with the Child Abuse Prevention Foundation in San Diego. They reside in the Scripps Ranch district of San Diego.

COACHING STAFF

DAVE ADOLPH

Defensive Coordinator

18th NFL Season

3rd Season with Chargers

Dave Adolph brought 32 years of coaching experience to the Chargers' defense when he was named the team's defensive coordinator on February 5, 1995.

Adolph has coached the past 17 seasons in the National Football League and has been a defensive coordinator in the American Football Conference for the last 12 campaigns.

In Adolph's first season with the Chargers in 1995, the team's defense ranked third in the AFC in fewest points allowed and sixth in the NFL. The team's overall defensive ranking improved to tenth in the League after ranking fourteenth in 1994. The team's pass defense improved to twelfth overall after ranking twenty-second in the League in 1994.

Before joining the Chargers, Adolph spent the previous three seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Kansas City Chiefs from 1992-94. Prior to joining the Chiefs, he spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Los Angeles Raiders from 1989-91. He coordinated the Cleveland Browns' defense in 1984 and 1986-89.

This is Adolph's second stint with the Chargers. In 1985 he came to San Diego to work for the team in pro personnel before being elevated to defensive coordinator during the season after the departure of Tom Bass.

Under Adolph's direction, the Chiefs' defense ranked third in the AFC in 1992, fourth in 1993 and fifth in 1994. Kansas City's defense forced a league-high 26 fumbles in 1994, five more than any other team, and its 38 takeaways were second in the NFL. The unit also had 38 takeaways in 1993. While coming up with big turnover, Kansas City also was stingy on the goal line. It ranked third in the AFC in the most-important category, fewest points allowed, allowing just 18.6 points a game.

In the past nine seasons, Adolph's defenses have ranked among the NFL's top 10 in total defense six times. Twice during his 12 years as a coordinator Adolph's defenses have ranked first in the AFC, and he has coached teams which have made it to the playoffs in nine of the last ten seasons.

Adolph first became a defensive coordinator on the professional level with the Cleveland Browns mid-way through the 1984 season when Marty Schottenheimer was promoted to head coach. Originally picked as the Browns' defensive line coach in 1979, he took over the club's linebackers in 1981.

Before entering the professional coaching ranks, Adolph spent 16 years as a college assistant at several high-profile programs. He spent two years as the offensive line coach at Akron University in 1963-64. He became an assistant coach at the University of Connecticut in 1965 before moving to the University of Kentucky where he was defensive coordinator from 1969-72. Following his four-year stint with the Wildcats, he became linebacker coach at Illinois in 1973, where he also stayed for four years. In 1977-78, he worked with the legendary Woody Hayes at Ohio State.

His first coaching opportunity came at Cleveland's Shaw High School in 1962.

David George Adolph was born June 6, 1937, in Akron, Ohio. He attended Mogadore High in Akron before going to Akron University where he played guard and linebacker for the Zips and was selected as the Ohio Conference's top lineman in 1958. Adolph then served three years of Air Force duty (1959-61) as a commissioned officer before joining the coaching ranks. Dave and wife Betty, have two children, Shane (May 8, 1974) and Heather (April 2, 1976). Dave also has three sons: Michael (Dec. 6, 1962); Mark (Aug. 27, 1964), and Thomas (July 30, 1969). The Adolphs reside in Escondido.

RALPH FRIEDGEN

Offensive Coordinator

5th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

In 1994, Bobby Ross named Friedgen the Chargers' first offensive coordinator since 1991. Since 1992, the Chargers' run-oriented offense has exceeded 100-yards rushing 35 times under Friedgen's direction and the Chargers have a 28-7 record in those games.

In Friedgen's first season as the team's offensive coordinator in 1994, the Chargers were second in the American Football Conference with 381 points scored behind Miami's 389. San Diego's 381 points scored was 59 more than the team's 1993 total of 322.

In 1995, Friedgen fostered the quick-strike tandem of wide receiver Tony Martin and Stan Humphries, who both had career seasons last year. Martin caught a personal and team single-season record 90 passes for a career-high 1,224 yards. Humphries, who has thrown for a career-high 17 touchdowns in each of the last two seasons, set a personal-best quarterback rating of 81.6 in 1994 and passed for a career-high 3,381 yards in 1995.

Friedgen brought 23 years of collegiate coaching experience to the Chargers when he joined the team Jan. 11, 1992. He spent the the 1992-93 seasons as coordinator of the running game and coached the tight ends and H-backs. This is his twentieth season in which he has coached alongside Ross, including at The Citadel (1973-77), Maryland (1982-86) and Georgia Tech (1987-91).

While at Georgia Tech, Friedgen (pronounced "FREE-gin") served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach and was in complete charge of the offense, including play-calling. In 1990, he directed a Tech offense that was the highest scoring team in school history during the modern era, averaging over 30 points and almost 400 yards per game. Five of Tech's offensive players earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference recognition.

Friedgen also was the offensive coordinator and line coach under Ross at Maryland. Friedgen has been credited with much of the Terrapins' offensive firepower which produced more than 28 points per game and helped Maryland win three Atlantic Coast Conference titles and play in four bowl games.

He spent the first three seasons at The Citadel as defensive line coach before becoming the offensive coordinator and line coach.

When Ross jumped to the NFL in 1978, Friedgen stayed at The Citadel through the 1979 season before going to William & Mary (1980), where he also was offensive coordinator, and then on to Murray State (1981), where he was the team's assistant head coach. He rejoined Ross in 1982 at Maryland.

Ralph Harry Friedgen was born April 4, 1947, in Harrison, New York. He played quarterback and linebacker for the Harrison High Huskies in Harrison. He is a 1969 graduate of Maryland and was named academic all-ACC in 1967-68 as a guard. Ralph graduated with a degree in Physical Education. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Roy Lester at Maryland in 1969 while earning a Master's degree in Psychology of Sports. Ralph and his wife, Gloria, have three children — Kelley (April 10, 1977), Kristina (March 19, 1986), and Katharine (Feb. 21, 1988) — and reside in Poway.

BRIAN BAKER

Defensive Line

1st NFL Season

1st Season with Chargers

Brian Baker, who played and coached for Head Coach Bobby Ross on the collegiate level, joined the Chargers as defensive line coach on Feb. 12, 1996.

"I've known Brian for many years and he worked for me as an assistant at both Georgia Tech and Maryland," said Ross. "He's also been with us at training camp for two of the past four years (as part of the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program.) So he has a good understanding of our schemes and players. I'm delighted to get a coach of his character and abilities."

Baker joined the Chargers after spending the previous nine seasons (1987-95) at Georgia Tech where he coached under Bobby Ross from 1987-91 when Ross was the school's head coach. He spent the 1995 season as the defensive coordinator/outside linebackers coach, guiding a Yellow Jackets' defense which ranked fourth in the nation against the run and thirty-ninth overall in total defense in 1995. Baker coached outside linebackers from 1987-1994 prior to taking on Tech's defensive coordinator duties in 1995.

Baker's coaching career began at the University of Maryland as a student assistant (1984) and as a graduate assistant (1985) coaching outside linebackers under Ross. Baker spent the 1986 season coaching fullbacks at Army.

Baker is an active member of the American Football Coaches Association (A.F.C.A.), and he is the first assistant coach to serve on the board of trustees for the A.F.C.A. He also served as Chairman of the Assistant Coaches Committee from 1992-95.

Baker lettered three times as an outside linebacker for the Maryland Terrapins under head coach Bobby Ross. Maryland earned three bowl invitations during Baker's playing career.

Brian Michael Baker was born June 20, 1962, in Baltimore, Maryland. He played running back and outside linebacker and ran track for the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute High School Engineers in Baltimore. Baker earned his bachelor's degree in marketing in 1985 from Maryland.

Baker is married to the former Nevada Tinsley of Manhattan, New York, who earned all-America honors in track and field while attending the University of Virginia. The Bakers have a daughter, Nicole (Aug. 12, 1995), and reside in San Diego.

GREG BROWN

Secondary

6th NFL Season

2nd Season with Chargers

Brown joined the Chargers as secondary coach Feb. 24, 1995. In Brown's first season in San Diego, the Chargers' pass defense improved from twenty-second (228.3 yards per game) in the NFL in 1994 to twelfth (211.4 yards per game) in 1995. Cornerback Dwayne Harper tied a career-high with four interceptions and safety Rodney Harrison led the team with five interceptions.

Prior to joining the Chargers, Brown coached the secondary for the Atlanta Falcons in 1994. The Falcons' secondary was tied for second in the NFL with 23 interceptions that year.

Prior to joining the Falcons, Brown was the secondary coach at the University of Colorado for three years (1991-93). The Buffaloes led the nation in pass completion defense in 1992. While at Colorado, he helped tutor two players, Deon Figures and Chris Hudson, who went on to win the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back. Figures, who won the award in 1992, was a first-round choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1993, and Hudson, who won the award in 1994, was a third-round choice of the Jacksonville Jaguars in 1995.

This is Brown's second coaching stint in the National Football League. His first tour of duty began in Tampa Bay in 1984 when he was the defensive assistant to the Buccaneers' secondary. He was Tampa's offensive quality control and assistant quarterbacks coach in 1985 and the Buccaneers' tight ends coach in 1986. His first job in the professional ranks was as the defensive backs coach for the Denver Gold of the United States Football League (1983-84).

Brown coached on the collegiate level at Purdue (1989-90) and Wyoming (1987-88). His first job in coaching was as a graduate assistant (1980-82) at his alma mater at Texas-El Paso.

Gregory Edward Brown was born October 10, 1957, in Denver, Colorado. He graduated with a degree in history and physical education in 1980 from Texas-El Paso. Brown lettered twice as a defensive back for UTEP after transferring from Glendale Community College in Glendale, Arizona. Brown starred in both football and track for the Arvada High Redskins in Arvada, Colorado.

Brown is single and resides in San Diego.

SYLVESTER CROOM

Offensive Backs

10th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

Croom is in his tenth season of coaching NFL running backs. He joined the Chargers on Jan. 7, 1992, after serving as running backs coach of the Indianapolis Colts in 1991. He coached the same position four seasons, 1987-90, for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Under Croom's tutelage, rookie running backs Aaron Hayden and Terrell Fletcher developed rapidly in 1995. Hayden finished the season with 128 carries for 470 yards and three touchdowns, despite playing in just six games. Over the last six games of the season (five regular season and one postseason), Hayden averaged 93.4-yards rushing per game. Fletcher saw action mainly in third-down situations and finished the season with 26 carries for 140 yards and one touchdown and three catches for 26 yards.

Before joining the Bucs, "Sly" spent 10 seasons with the University of Alabama where he served as linebackers coach. He coached both outside linebackers, 1977-81 and 1984-86, and inside linebackers, 1982-83. Alabama won back-to-back national titles in 1978-79. He tutored four players who were NFL first-round draft choices — E.J. Junior (1981), Mike Pitts (1983), Cornelius Bennett (1987) and Derrick Thomas (1989). During Croom's tenure, Alabama led the Southeastern Conference in total defense two seasons, 1979-80. He began with the Crimson Tide as a graduate assistant in 1975-76.

As a 6-0, 235-pound center, Croom helped lead the Crimson Tide to three consecutive SEC Championships. A three-year letterman for Paul "Bear" Bryant, Croom was named Kodak all-America and first-team all-SEC as a senior in 1974. He also earned the Jacobs Award as the best down lineman in the conference. Alabama compiled a 32-4 record during Croom's three years as a starter and was named national champion in 1973 by UPI. He began his career at Alabama as a linebacker, then switched to tight end and tackle and finally to center.

He continued his playing career one season in the NFL when he signed as a free agent in 1975 with the New Orleans Saints.

Croom received a bachelor's degree in history with a minor in biology from Alabama in 1975. He earned his Master's degree in educational administration two years later at Alabama.

Sylvester Croom Jr. was born on September 25, 1954, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He played linebacker and tight end for the Tuscaloosa High Black Bears. Sly and his wife, Jeri, have a daughter, Jennifer (Dec. 13, 1972), and reside in the Rancho Bernardo area of San Diego.

JOHN DUNN
Strength and Conditioning
13th NFL Season
7th Season with Chargers

Dunn took over the Chargers' strength and conditioning program March 1, 1990, after serving a three-year stint (1987-89) in charge of the Los Angeles Raiders' strength and conditioning program. Dunn began his career in the NFL as an assistant strength coach with the Redskins from 1984-86.

In 1994 Dunn was voted the National Football League's Professional Strength and Conditioning of the year by his peers.

Dunn graduated with a degree in health and physical education from Penn State University in 1994. He played defensive line his first two seasons, 1974-75, before switching to offensive tackle as a junior and then to guard as a senior. He was named offensive co-captain for the Nittany Lions his senior season. Dunn signed as a free agent with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1978. He returned to Penn State as the team's assistant offensive line coach in 1979.

He operated "Mother Dunn's Nautilus Club" in York, Pa., 1980-83, and Goshen, New York, 1984-86, before coming to the NFL in 1984.

John James Dunn, Jr., was born July 22, 1956, in Hillsdale, New York. He was a three-sport star, including a nationally-ranked shot putter, for Taconic Hills High in Philmont, New York. John and his wife, Julia, have two daughters — Jessica (May 15, 1989) and Taylor (July 29, 1991) — and reside in Rancho Penasquitos.

FRANK FALKS
Tight Ends/H-Backs
3rd NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

Falks joined the Chargers staff Feb. 2, 1994, to coach tight ends and H-backs after two years as running backs coach at Ohio State.

Under Falks, Al Pupunu set career highs in receptions and receiving yards in back-to-back seasons in 1994 and 1995. After setting personal bests with 21 receptions for 214 yards and two touchdowns in 1994, Pupunu improved his single-season bests to 35 receptions for 315 yards in 1995.

In 1993, Ohio State's senior rusher Raymont Harris gained 1,369 yards and averaged 112 yards a game. Three of Falks' running backs were selected in the 1994 draft (Jeff Cothran, third round; Raymont Harris, fourth; By'not'e Butler, seventh) and Robert Smith was the twenty-first player selected in the 1993 draft.

Falks began his coaching career as offensive coordinator for his alma mater Parsons College in 1968-69. He moved to Kansas State from 1970-72. Falks joined Arkansas as defensive ends coach, 1973-77. From 1978-79 Falks was the defensive coordinator at Wyoming before becoming the defensive coordinator at San Diego State in 1980. He moved to Oklahoma State in 1981, where he coached running backs for Jimmy Johnson for two seasons. During Falks' tenure at Oklahoma State, he coached Ernest Anderson, the nation's leading rusher in 1982. Falks was the running backs coach at Southern California, 1983-84, and assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator, 1985-86. Before joining the Buckeyes, Falks moved to Arizona State and coached running backs from 1987-91. While at Arizona State, he tutored Leonard Russell, the first running back drafted and the fourteenth player chosen overall in the 1991 NFL Draft. Falks served as assistant head coach for the Sun Devils from 1989-91.

Falks played linebacker in 1963-64 for Joplin Junior College in Joplin, Missouri, earning all-America honors in 1964. He was elected to Joplins' Hall of Fame in 1973. He continued his career at Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa, where he graduated with honors with bachelor of science degrees in Biology and Health & Physical Education in 1967. Falks also earned all-America honors in 1966.

Franklin Curtis Falks was born March 9, 1943, in Tampa, Florida.

He attended Howard Blake High in Tampa and was named football captain for the Yellow Jackets as a senior. He also was a member of the National Honor Society.

Frank and his wife, Carol, have a son, Micheal (April 22, 1973), and a daughter, Raegan (Nov. 27, 1975). The Falks reside in San Diego.

JACK HENRY

Offensive Line

3rd NFL Season

1st Season with Chargers

Jack Henry brought 27 years of coaching experience to the Chargers when he was named the team's offensive line coach on Feb. 28, 1996, after spending the previous three seasons (1993-95) as the offensive line coach for the University of Pittsburgh.

"What I like about Jack is that he has coached on all levels," said Ross. "He knows what has to be done. He is a fine addition to our program. He came highly recommended from people both within and outside our program."

This is Henry's second professional coaching position. He coached the offensive line for Chuck Noll and the Steelers in 1990-91.

Prior to his stints with the University of Pittsburgh and the Steelers, Henry served as the assistant director of athletics, associate head football coach and offensive coordinator at his alma mater, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, from 1986-89. He was the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach at Wake Forest (1981-85); offensive coordinator at Appalachian State (1980); offensive line coach at West Virginia (1978-79) and Southern Illinois (1977); offensive coordinator at Millersville (1975-76); offensive line coach at Louisville (1974); offensive line coach and assistant wrestling coach at Edinboro (1973); and freshman offensive line coach at West Virginia (1970).

Henry's coaching career began as the offensive line/linebackers coach at Blairsville (Pa.) High School in 1969. He served as the defensive coordinator and head track coach at Wheeling (W.V.) Central Catholic High School in 1971 and defensive coordinator at Canon-McMillan (Pa.) High School in 1972.

Henry, who began his collegiate playing career as a linebacker at Penn State (1964-65), played guard for Indiana University of Pennsylvania in 1967-68 before graduating in 1969. He was the captain of IUP's 1968 Boardwalk Bowl championship team.

John "Jack" Henry was born March 14, 1946, in Wilmerding, Pennsylvania. He graduated from Chartiers-Houston High in Houston, Pennsylvania. Henry and his wife, Carol, have two children, Chad (April 1, 1972) and Jacqueline (April 24, 1977).

DALE LINDSEY

Linebackers

19th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

Lindsey has 22 years of coaching experience, nine years of NFL playing experience and a wealth of knowledge and expertise from a career which spans eleven stops in four professional leagues as well as the collegiate and high school levels. He joined Bobby Ross' staff Jan. 13, 1992.

After retiring in 1973 from a nine-year playing career as a middle linebacker with the Cleveland Browns (1965-73), Lindsey jumped right into the coaching ranks when he became the linebackers coach of the Browns in 1974. He landed in the World Football League in 1975 with the Portland Storm before he spent two seasons (1977-78) as head coach at Warren Central High in Bowling Green, Kentucky.

He returned the professional ranks in 1979, this time with Toronto of the Canadian Football League, and coached the Argonauts' linebackers through the 1982 season. His coaching career took him into his fourth professional league when the United States Football League kicked off in 1983. He coached linebackers for the Boston Breakers (1983) and was the defensive coordinator for the New Jersey Generals (1984-85). Lindsey returned to the National Football League in 1986 and served as the Green Bay Packers' linebackers coach through the 1987 season before following head coach Forrest Gregg to Southern Methodist University in 1988 where he served as defensive coordinator, 1988-89. The NFL called once again, and Lindsey spent the 1990 season as the defensive line coach of the New England Patriots. He coached the linebackers for the Buccaneers in Tampa Bay in 1991 before joining the Chargers.

Phillip Dale Lindsey was born Jan. 18, 1943, in Bedford, Indiana, and grew up in Bowling Green, Kentucky. He participated in football, basketball and track at Bowling Green High. He was a first-team Little all-America selection as a senior linebacker at Western Kentucky and was twice named all-Ohio Valley Conference. Dale was inducted into the Western Kentucky Hall of Fame in 1993. He was drafted by both the NFL Cleveland Browns (seventh round) and the AFL New York Jets in 1965 before signing with the Browns. Dale and his wife, Eva, have five children — Blan (Sept. 6, 1963), Jennifer (March 6, 1965), Kim (July 19, 1967), Johnny (Sept. 25, 1973), and Derek (May 29, 1975) — and reside in the Rancho Bernardo district of San Diego.

JOHN MISCIAGNA

Quality Control

5th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

On Jan. 6, 1992, Misciagna became the first assistant coach named to Bobby Ross' staff. The 40-year-old New York native breaks down game tape of both the Chargers and their opponents and supplies computer analysis for the staff's game-plan preparation.

Misciagna (Mi-SHAG-nuh) first joined Ross in 1982. He had worked at Maryland since 1979 when he was a graduate assistant working with wide receivers. When Ross became Maryland's head coach in 1982, Misciagna became recruiting coordinator and continued those duties under head coach John Krivak in 1988. He returned to Ross' staff at Georgia Tech in 1989 as Director of Recruiting and as a volunteer assistant coach. Misciagna served the 1991 season as Director of Football Operations at Georgia Tech.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant offensive line coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania (1976-77) and as a graduate assistant coach for wide receivers and defensive backs at Columbia (1977-79).

John William Misciagna was born Dec. 11, 1955, in Brooklyn, New York. He participated in football and track for the Poly Prep Blue Devils in Brooklyn before becoming an all-Conference guard in football and captain of both the football and track teams at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. He earned a bachelor's degree in English and Comparative Literature in 1976 from Dickinson before earning a master's degree in English at Columbia in 1978. John is single and resides in the Tierrasanta district of San Diego.

DENNIS MURPHY

Defense/Special Teams Assistant

3rd NFL Season

3rd Season with Chargers

Denny Murphy, a Navy veteran who earned five medals while serving in Vietnam, serves as an assistant for both the Chargers' defense and special teams.

After spending the 1994-95 seasons as the team's defensive line coach, Murphy's duties will broaden in 1996 to include working with the team's quality control efforts and overall scouting of opponent's offensive tendencies.

Murphy originally joined the Chargers' as defensive line coach Jan. 28, 1994, after spending the 1992-93 seasons at the United States Naval Academy where he was defensive coordinator in 1993.

In its first season under Murphy, the Chargers' defensive line was responsible for 36.5 of the team's 43 sacks, which was up from the team's total of 32 sacks in 1993. In 1995, the Chargers' defensive front was responsible for 31 of the team's 36 sacks.

Murphy, a native of South Bend, Indiana, earned three letters as a defensive lineman-tight end at Notre Dame. After playing in the North-South Shrine All-Star game, he had a tryout with the Los Angeles Rams.

He was commissioned as a Navy Flight Officer and during service in Vietnam earned the Vietnam Service medal with three stars, the National Defense medal and Republic of Vietnam Campaign medal.

Murphy returned to Notre Dame in 1968 and spent the next six years as freshman coach (1969) and junior varsity coach (1970-74) with the Irish. In 1975, he headed to Colgate to coach the offensive line. Murphy moved to Holy Cross for the 1976 and 1977 seasons, serving as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. From 1978-81, he was offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Eastern Michigan University. Murphy was appointed to the Maryland coaching staff in 1982, where he was initially hired by then Maryland Head Coach Bobby Ross. He remained at Maryland for 10 years as defensive line coach before joining Navy.

Dennis Michael Murphy was born Oct. 22, 1940, in Endicott, New York. He participated in baseball, wrestling and football for John Adams High School in South Bend. Murphy earned three letters and all-State honors for the John Adams Eagles. He was graduated with a bachelor of Arts degree from Notre Dame in 1963. Murphy earned his Master of Arts in teaching from Notre Dame in 1969.

Denny and his wife, Cindy, have four children — Michelle (Jan. 6, 1973), Kristen (June 17, 1974), Lisa (May 29, 1976), and Kevin (Aug. 23, 1979) — and reside in San Diego.

DWAIN PAINTER

Quarterbacks

9th NFL Season

3rd Season with Chargers

Dwain Painter brought 29 years of coaching experience to the Chargers, including six as an NFL coach, when he was named the team's quarterbacks coach Jan. 28, 1994, after serving the previous two seasons (1992-93) as receivers coach with the Indianapolis Colts.

In his first season under Painter's guidance, quarterback Stan Humphries set career highs with 17 touchdown passes and a quarterback rating of 81.6 in 1994. In 1995, Humphries continued to develop into one of the NFL's premier big-play quarterbacks, passing for a career-high 3,381 yards in his second season under Painter.

In 1994 Painter tutored the AFC's leading receiver, Reggie Langhorne, to career highs of 85 catches and 1,038 yards — the most catches ever by a Colts' receiver in a single season.

The Pittsburgh native began his NFL career in 1988 when he became the wide receivers coach under Chuck Noll of the Pittsburgh Steelers. Painter coached Pittsburgh's receivers for four seasons (1988-91), and during that time he had the opportunity to coach Louis Lipps, one the premier receivers in Steelers' history. Lipps finished his career with 6,018 receiving yards and 39 touchdowns.

Painter coached 17 years on the collegiate level. He joined the Steelers from the University of Illinois, where he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 1987. During his tenure at Illinois, he tutored a red-shirted Jeff George.

Painter launched his career as head coach at Wall (New Jersey) High School in 1965. He was offensive coordinator at San Jose State under DeWayne "Dewey" King in 1971. Painter moved to the College of San Mateo two years later (1973). He also coached quarterbacks and receivers under LaVell Edwards at Brigham Young (1974-75). Painter landed the same role at UCLA and remained there three seasons (1976-78). He became the head coach at Northern Arizona in 1979 and compiled a 16-17 record during his tenure (1979-81). Painter moved to Georgia Tech (1981-85) and Texas (1986) as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

Painter played quarterback and defensive back at Rutgers from 1961-64 and was a member of the first undefeated football team (9-0, 1961) in school history. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1964 and a Master's in education in 1966.

Dwain Edward Painter was born February 13, 1942, in Monroeville, Pennsylvania. He pitched the first no-hitter in school history for the Gateway High Gators. He has a son, Doug (Oct. 21, 1971), and a grandson, Taylor James Menta (Aug 22, 1993). Painter resides in San Diego.

CHUCK PRIEFER

Special Teams

7th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

Priefer joined the Chargers Jan. 6, 1992, and is in charge of all of San Diego's special teams units. He followed head coach Bobby Ross to the Chargers from Georgia Tech where he coached the defensive backfield five seasons, 1987-91. He uses his experience to assist with the Chargers' secondary as well. Prior to joining Ross at Georgia Tech, Priefer spent the 1986 season as the defensive coordinator at Kent State.

Under Priefer, the Chargers' special teams have consistently ranked amongst the NFL's best. Over the past two seasons, San Diego's special teams have scored more touchdowns (eight) than any NFL team.

In 1995, return specialist Andre Coleman continued to re-write the club's record book. After becoming the first player in team history to return two kickoffs for touchdowns in a single-season in 1994, Coleman repeated the feat in 1995 while adding a punt return for a score. He also led the AFC with a 11.6-yard punt return average.

Also under Priefer's tutelage, former Australian Rules Football player Darren Bennett took the NFL by storm in 1995 when he ranked second in the NFL and set a new team record with a 44.7-yard average in his first year of organized football.

Bennett's trip to the Pro Bowl marked the second-consecutive season one of Priefer's students earned that honor. In 1994, kicker John Carney was named to the Pro Bowl after leading the NFL with 135 points. Carney's 79.58 career field goal percentage ranks third in NFL history among kickers with a minimum of 100 field goals. Carney also became San Diego's all-time leader in 1995 by kicking his 150th career field goal with the team.

In 1994, San Diego's punt return and kickoff return teams ranked second and third, respectively, in the NFL. During the 1994 regular season, the Chargers were the only team in the NFL to return two punts and two kickoffs for touchdowns. Punt returner Darrien Gordon led the AFC and was second in the NFL with a 13.2-yard average.

While at Tech, he formulated a pass defense which ranked number one in the nation for several weeks during both the 1988 and 1990 seasons. The Ramblin' Wreck's pass defense was ranked eighth in the nation in 1991 and ranked in the top 15 three times.

Priefer brought NFL coaching experience with him from two seasons as the special teams coach for the Green Bay Packers, 1984-85, where he also assisted with the linebackers. Under Priefer in 1984, the Packers' kickoff coverage team led the NFL by allowing just 16.0-yards a return and the special teams finished with the top average ranking in the NFC Central Division.

Priefer began his coaching career as an assistant football, baseball and basketball coach at Padua Franciscan High School in Padua, Ohio, in 1963. He became head baseball coach in 1965 and assistant athletic director in 1966. He served as head football coach from 1972-76 and posted a 34-15 record. He coached one season (1977) at Miami of Ohio and six at North Carolina (1978-83). He spent one season as defensive backfield coach at UNC and five as defensive line coach. The Tar Heels went to five straight bowl games during that time, posting a 50-20-1 record.

Charles John Priefer was born July 26, 1944, in Parma, Ohio. He attended St. Charles Boromeo High in Wickliffe, Ohio, before moving on to John Carroll University where he graduated in 1963 with a degree in History and Latin. He earned a Master's degree in 1967 in American-Russian history from John Carroll. Chuck and his wife, Sheila, have four children — Michael, Therese, Jennifer, and Megan — and six grandchildren. The Priefers reside in Oceanside.

JERRY SULLIVAN

Wide Receivers

5th NFL Season

5th Season with Chargers

Jerry Sullivan was appointed to coach the Chargers' wide receivers Jan. 10, 1992, after gaining 18 years of collegiate coaching experience.

Under Sullivan, wide receiver Tony Martin has developed into one of the NFL's elite receivers. Martin set a team record with 90 receptions in 1995, surpassing the club record of 89 set by Pro Football Hall of Fame tight end Kellen Winslow in 1980. Martin's 90 receptions ranked second in the AFC and his 1,224 yards was fourth in the conference in 1995. In two seasons under Sullivan, Martin has caught 140 passes for 2,109 yards and 13 touchdowns and an average of 15.1-yards per reception.

Sullivan spent the 1991 season coaching the receivers at Ohio State. He had a successful seven-year stint as the wide receivers coach at Louisiana State University, 1984-90, and served under head coach Bill Arnsparger his first three seasons, 1984-86. His list of prize pupils included two-time all-America Wendell Davis. Sullivan was part of an LSU program which won Southeast Conference titles in 1986 and 1988.

Sullivan began his collegiate coaching career in 1971 as a graduate assistant at Kansas State. He was elevated to a full-time position before going to Texas Tech in 1973 as coach of the Red Raiders' freshmen and tight ends. He left Texas Tech following the 1975 campaign to coach the wide receivers at South Carolina. He spent seven years with the Gamecocks (1976-82), before accepting a similar position at Indiana under Sam Wyche in 1983. In 1984, after Wyche moved to the NFL, Sullivan accepted the position at LSU.

Jeremiah Martin Sullivan was born July 13, 1944, in Miami, Florida. He attended Jackson High School in Miami and played football and baseball. Sullivan originally enrolled at Florida State to play football, but transferred after two years and received his bachelor's degree in speech and physical education from Delta State in 1968. After earning a Master's in guidance and secondary education, Sullivan began his coaching career at Cooper High School in Vicksburg, Mississippi, in 1970.

Jerry and his wife, Connie, reside in the Rancho Bernardo district of San Diego and have three children: Jon Eric (Aug. 10, 1976), Matthew (Feb. 21, 1974) and Allison (Jan. 10, 1976). Jon Eric is currently a wide receiver at the University of South Carolina.

PLAYER PERSONNEL

BILLY DEVANEY

Director of Player Personnel

14th NFL Season

7th Season with Chargers

Devaney was named the Chargers' director of player personnel January 23, 1990, after serving seven seasons as a scout for the Washington Redskins. Devaney scouted the Northeast part-time for Washington beginning in 1979 before joining the team fulltime in 1983.

William Joseph Peter Francis Devaney was born March 7, 1955, in Red Bank, New Jersey. He played football and baseball for the Mater Dei High Seraphs in New Monmouth, New Jersey, before going to Biscayne College in Miami, Florida, where he played baseball. While at Biscayne, now known as St. Thomas College and former training grounds of the Miami Dolphins, Devaney became acquainted with then-Dolphins' director of player personnel Bobby Beathard. After one year, Devaney transferred to Elon College in North Carolina to play both football and baseball but maintained contact with Beathard. Devaney played strong safety for four seasons and co-captained the football team as a senior. He also played third base three years at Elon. After graduating with a degree in history in 1978, Devaney joined Beathard's staff in Washington.

Billy and his wife, Deirdre, have a daughter, Kaitlin Ashley (Jan. 20, 1987), and a son, Tyler Everett "Boo" (July 16, 1991), and reside in El Cajon, California. He's an avid runner and has raced in seven Boston Marathons.

RUDY FELDMAN

Director of Pro Personnel

22nd NFL Season

14th Season with Chargers

Feldman has coordinated the evaluation of talent in the NFL and other professional leagues as well as assisted in the collegiate draft since he joined the Chargers May 27, 1987, after a coaching career spanning 12 NFL seasons and 17 college seasons.

This is Feldman's second stint with the Chargers. He came to the Chargers and the NFL in 1974 as a defensive line coach. Feldman was the line coach for the first two seasons, 1975-76, of former San Diego standouts Gary Johnson, Louie Kelcher and Fred Dean. He coached the offensive line in 1977 before leaving to join the St. Louis Cardinals in 1978. He coached the defensive line (1978-81) and linebackers (1982-85) in St. Louis. Under Feldman, Cardinal linebacker E.J. Junior earned two Pro Bowl berths.

Feldman was the head coach at the University of New Mexico from 1968-73 and was Western Athletic Conference coach of the year in 1970. Feldman was chief assistant coach at Colorado (1963-67) and coached both sides of the line at Oklahoma (1958-62). He joined the college coaching ranks in 1957 at Iowa State.

Rudolf Arthur Feldman was born May 18, 1932, in San Francisco. He participated in football, basketball, track and wrestling at Palo Alto High in Palo Alto, Calif., before playing offensive guard at UCLA from 1951-53 and serving as captain of an 8-1 team which played in the 1954 Rose Bowl. Rudy received a degree in physical education from UCLA. He toured Air Force Bases in Europe with Grambling head coach Eddie Robinson in 1972. He and his wife, Joanne, have two sons, Kirk (Sept. 30, 1957) and Kent (Dec. 27, 1960), and a daughter Lisa (Oct. 30, 1964). The Feldmans reside in San Diego.

MARTY HURNEY

Coordinator of Football Operations

9th NFL Season

7th Season with Chargers

Hurney joined the Chargers as coordinator of football operations Feb. 12, 1990, after two years as the director of public relations for the Washington Redskins, 1988-89. Hurney oversees the day-to-day operations of the player personnel department. He also assists in player negotiations and closely monitors the players' payroll with regards to the salary cap.

Hurney came to the Redskins and the NFL after covering the Washington team five years, 1983-87, for the Washington Times.

Martin Russell Hurney was born Dec. 20, 1955, in Wheaton, Maryland, and attended Good Council High in Wheaton. Marty was graduated with a degree in English from Catholic University in Washington D.C. before beginning his journalism career with the Montgomery Journal in Silver Springs, Maryland. He also worked for the Washington Star from 1978-80.

Marty and his wife, Jeannie, have a son, Joe (Sept. 12, 1995), and reside in Del Mar Heights, California.

JEFF BEATHARD

Scout

5th NFL Season

3rd Season with Chargers

Jeff Beathard, the son of General Manager Bobby Beathard, joined the Chargers' scouting staff May 17, 1994, after spending the previous two seasons as a scout for the Los Angeles Rams.

Beathard also served as a scout and coach in the World League of American Football (WLAF) from 1990-92. He scouted for the league in 1990. He then became a scout and the running backs coach of the Orlando Thunder in 1991 and a scout and the tight ends coach of the San Antonio Riders in 1992.

Beathard was the final player selected in the twelfth round by the Rams in the 1988 draft. He played two seasons (1988-89) for Winnipeg of the Canadian Football League. Beathard was a running back at Southern Oregon State (1987) after transferring following three years (1983-85) at Towson State in Maryland.

Jeffrey Robert Beathard was born June 9, 1964, in Torrance, California. Beathard attended Oakton High School in Vienna, Virginia, where he participated in football, baseball, and track. Beathard earned all-District and all-Region honors for the Oakton Cougars and also played in the Virginia football All-Star Game as a senior. He was graduated with a degree in general studies from Southern Oregon State in 1987.

Jeff resides in Broad Run, Virginia, with his daughter, Kylee (May 28, 1991), and son, Jeffrey (Sept. 11, 1992).

DON GREGORY

Eighth Year

Rice
Draft 2A - '89

NFL: Model of consistency and durability, Hall has started and played in more games with Chargers than anyone on San Diego's roster...in seven NFL seasons, Courtney has missed just one of 118 possible regular-season and postseason games...career totals include 111 starts in 111 regular-season games and six starts in six postseason games...teammate's acknowledged Hall's importance by naming him team captain in each of last two seasons...NFL peers have acknowledged Hall's play by voting him alternate to AFC Pro Bowl squad following 1991, 1992, 1994 and 1995 seasons...one of Chargers' strongest players in both weight room and on playing field...endowed with all traits of top NFL centers — compact, powerful build with quick feet, low center of gravity, and superior intelligence...along with missing just one NFL game in seven seasons, Hall started every game in college (44) and high school. 1995: Started 16 of 16 regular-season and one postseason contest for

Chargers in 1995...marked sixth time in seven NFL seasons Hall has started every game. 1994: Started 15 of 15 regular-season games and all three postseason contests in 1994...suffered torn left bicep at Seattle Sept. 18...missed first career start at Los Angeles Raiders Sept. 25 with bicep injury...returned to starting lineup versus Kansas City Oct. 9 and started remainder of Chargers' games. 1993: Voted by teammates as Chargers' 1993 Lineman of Year...started all 16 games for fifth consecutive season...continued to excel at center position even while adjusting to numerous changes at both guard positions around him throughout 1993 season...only Chargers' offensive lineman to start every game at his position over previous three seasons. 1992: Started and played in all 16 games at center for Chargers in '92...also started both playoff contests...voted alternate to AFC Pro Bowl squad for second consecutive season. 1991: Teammates recognized Hall's importance to team by voting him co-Lineman of Year with Harry Swayne in 1991...returned to starting center position for every game in '91 after starting all 16 games at left guard in 1990. 1990: Versatile talents were needed at left guard in 1990 and Hall unselfishly made move...after making 16 starts in 1989 at center, moved to left guard just prior to regular-season opener and never missed a beat through 16 starts...provided strength and flexibility to offensive unit that allowed just 16 sacks in 1990. 1989: Entered NFL in 1989 as youngest draft-eligible player and performed like seasoned veteran...one of most productive picks of 1989 draft...one of two Chargers' rookies to start every game in 1989 and only rookie offensive lineman in NFL to start all 16 games...seized torch from 14-season veteran Don Macek and extended starting streak dating through high school...first of two players selected by San Diego in the second round and thirty-seventh player selected overall in 1989 NFL Draft.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL: Born Courtney Caesar Hall Aug. 26, 1968, in Los Angeles...outstanding pass protector for collegiate offense which averaged more than 200 yards passing and 385 yards total offense in 1988...consensus first-team all-Southwest Conference as senior in 1988...first offensive lineman named most valuable player by Rice in 20 years...heralded as Owls' strongest player...set standard at NFL's 1989 scouting combine with 36 reps in bench press of 225 pounds...at age 16, was nation's youngest major-college player...listed by Sporting News as one of top freshmen in nation...started all 44 career games played...lined up at left guard and tackle before moving to center...1989 recipient of American Spirit Award presented by American Airlines and Southwest Conference Radio Network for leadership, character, and athletic ability...USA Today academic all-America team...National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame scholar-athlete...two-year letterman and all-South Bay honors for Banning High Pilots in Wilmington, Calif., winners of Los Angeles Class AAAA city championship his junior year...identified as gifted child by state of California...attended nursery school at age two, kindergarten at four, and high school at age 12...entered college at age 16...earned degrees in economics and business at Rice...National Merit Scholarship semifinalist...after NFL, plans to earn Masters in Business Administration to become chief executive officer of major company...continued education at San Diego State through offseasons while seeking Masters...Courtney has son, Terence Ceasar (Nov. 2, 1995), and resides in Poway, a suburb of San Diego.

Games-Starts: 1989, 16-16; 1990, 16-16; 1991, 16-16; 1992, 16-16; 1993, 16-16; 1994, 15-15; 1995, 16-16; Total, 111-111.

GAME 1

at Oakland 17, San Diego 7
Sunday, Sept. 3

The Chargers traveled to Oakland to play the Raiders in their first regular-season game in Oakland since 1981 and lost to the home team, 17-7. Though San Diego outgained Oakland in total yardage, 371 yards to 247, the Chargers committed three turnovers leading to all 17 of Oakland's points. After San Diego's defense stopped Oakland on its first two series, San Diego was intercepted on the Raiders' one-yard line. Oakland proceeded to march 99 yards in 14 plays and take a 7-0 lead. The Chargers failed to convert a 42-yard field goal attempt on their next possession, but finally found the scoreboard on their final drive of the first half. The offense went 62 yards in seven plays and scored on a 39-yard pass from Stan Humphries to Shawn Jefferson to tie the score at 7-7. San Diego received the opening kickoff of the second half but fumbled the ball away on its first play from scrimmage and the Raiders took a 10-7 lead four plays later. The defense continued its strong play and forced the Raiders to punt, but the punt was muffed and Oakland got the ball back on the Chargers' 27-yard line. Two plays later the Raiders scored again and held the lead for good, 17-7. The Chargers defense forced the Raiders to punt nine times and held them to just 108 yards passing. Linebacker Dennis Gibson led the team with 10 tackles and the line recorded five sacks, including two by Shawn Lee. Wide receiver Shawn Jefferson tied a career-high with six catches good for a personal-best 120 yards receiving.

GAME 2

at San Diego 14, Seattle 10
Sunday, Sept. 10

The Chargers improved their record to 1-1 with a 14-10 win over the Seahawks in San Diego. San Diego took the opening kickoff and marched 75 yards in 12 plays, including six carries by Natrone Means and three catches by Tony Martin, and took a 7-0 lead on a five-yard touchdown catch by Martin. Seattle tied the game after intercepting a Stan Humphries pass and going 47 yards in eight plays for the score. The half ended tied, 7-7. The Seahawks jumped ahead, 10-7, early in the third period before San Diego took the lead for good with a 15-yard touchdown pass to Ronnie Harmon. The scoring drive went 75 yards in 11 plays. The catch was Harmon's only reception in the game and kept his streak of 71 consecutive games (including postseason) with a reception intact. Means led the ground attack with 115 yards on 26 carries. Martin led the team through the air, catching a career-high 13 passes for 163 yards and one touchdown. Martin's 13 catches tied for the third-most in a single game in team history. Humphries finished the day with 23 completions of 35 attempts for 260 yards, two touchdowns and one interception. Safety Rodney Harrison recorded the first two interceptions of his career, both stopping Seahawks' scoring threats deep in San Diego territory.

San Diego 27, at Philadelphia 21 Sunday, Sept. 17

The Chargers traveled to the City of Brotherly Love and improved their record to 2-1 with a 27-21 win over the Philadelphia Eagles. Down 14-0 early in the game, the Chargers scored 27 unanswered points and held on in the fourth quarter for the win. The Eagles scored first and then again following a San Diego turnover to take a 14-0 lead. Andre Coleman returned the following kickoff 41 yards to set up a 49-yard drive for the Chargers' first score, a 38-yard Stan Humphries strike to Shawn Jefferson in the endzone. John Carney brought San Diego closer with a 35-yard field goal. On Philadelphia's next play from scrimmage, Willie Clark forced an Eagles' fumble and Junior Seau scooped it up and raced 29 yards for his first career touchdown to give San Diego a 17-14 lead at halftime. The Chargers struck again quickly in the second half when, after the defense forced the Eagles' to punt after their first possession, Coleman came through again with an 88-yard punt return for a touchdown to give San Diego a 24-14 lead. A 21-yard Carney field goal ended San Diego's scoring. Philadelphia tightened the score, 27-21, but Rodney Harrison made his third interception in the last two games to end the game. Natrone Means rushed for 122 yards and Humphries completed 10 of 23 passes for 143 yards and one touchdown. Seau led the Chargers with 12 tackles and Shawn Lee added one-and-a-half sacks to increase his total to a team-high 3.5.

GAME 4

at San Diego 17, Denver 6
Sunday, Sept. 24

The Chargers and Broncos met in a tough AFC Western Division showdown and San Diego produced its third win in a row by defeating Denver, 17-6. The San Diego defense did not allow a touchdown to the explosive Broncos. After San Diego was stopped on its first two possessions — the second coming on an interception after getting to Denver's 13-yard line — the Broncos drove 84 yards in 13 plays and took a 3-0 lead. The Chargers bounced back on their next possession with a 14-play, 73-yard drive and Natrone Means gave San Diego a 7-3 lead with a three-yard run. Denver hit a 52-yard field goal following its first drive of the second half to tighten the score, 7-6. But the Chargers responded once again with a 16-play, 86-yard drive and Means scored his second touchdown on a two-yard run. John Carney hit a 45-yard field goal with 5:00 left in the game to finish the scoring. The Chargers' offense controlled the ball and the clock, notching 176 yards rushing and holding onto the ball 36:10 to Denver's 23:50. Linebacker Junior Seau led the team in tackles for the second consecutive week, notching 11 and one pass defense. The Chargers' defense held the Broncos to 246 total yards and just 65 yards rushing. Means chalked up his third-consecutive 100-yard rushing day with 115 yards and two touchdowns on a career-high 27 carries. Running back Ronnie Harmon caught five passes and had 10 rushes as well. Wide receiver Tony Martin caught five passes for a team-high 82 yards.

GAME 5

at Pittsburgh 31, San Diego 16
Sunday, Oct. 1

Interceptions and penalties were the deciding factors that led to the Chargers' 31-16 loss to the Steelers in Pittsburgh, dropping San Diego to 3-2. The offense was intercepted four times, including two returned for touchdowns, and the team lost 134 yards in penalties, the third-highest total in team history. The Steelers took the opening kickoff and marched 75 yards and took a 7-0 lead. On the Chargers' first possession, San Diego drove to Pittsburgh's 43-yard line before a Stan Humphries' pass was tipped, picked off and returned 63 yards for a touchdown. San Diego also was intercepted on its third possession and the ball was returned 32 yards for a score. The Chargers were down 21-0 in the first quarter for the first time since Game 4 in 1981. The Steelers upped their lead, 24-0, before San Diego got on the board courtesy of a 13-yard Natrone Means run. Pittsburgh went into the locker room at the half with a 31-6 lead. The Chargers rallied in the second half, scoring on their first possession with a 10-play, 77-yard drive and a 19-yard Humphries to Tony Martin pass. John Carney kicked a 28-yard field goal for San Diego's final points. San Diego outgained Pittsburgh in total yardage, 327 to 261 yards, while playing catch-up the entire game. Twelve penalties for 134 yards and four interceptions stalled the offense. Means gained 92 yards on 18 carries.

GAME 6

at Kansas City 29, San Diego 23
Monday, Oct. 9

The Chargers fell to 3-3 with a tough, 29-23 overtime loss to the Chiefs in Kansas City. San Diego took a 23-16 lead with two scores in the fourth quarter. But Kansas City drove 79 yards in eight plays in just 57 seconds with no time-outs and tied the game at the end of regulation. San Diego was forced to punt twice in overtime and Tamarick Vanover returned the second punt 86 yards for the winning touchdown. The Chargers also were without starting quarterback Stan Humphries in overtime as he suffered a sprained right shoulder near the end of the fourth quarter. The game was tied 13-13 at the end of the first half. San Diego used two John Carney field goals (28 and 36 yards) and a two-yard Natrone Means scoring run. The score remained tied into the fourth quarter when the Chiefs used a 49-yard field goal to take the lead. San Diego took their next possession 73 yards in 10 plays and Humphries hit tight end Shannon Mitchell on a four-yard scoring pass. Carney added his third field goal of the game, this one from 29 yards, after the offense drove 60 yards. San Diego led 23-16 with 1:06 left in the game before the Chiefs drove 79 yards to tie the game. San Diego's offense chalked up 369 total yards, including 318 yards passing. Humphries completed 24 of 34 passes for 315 yards and one touchdown. Linebackers Lewis Bush and Junior Seau led the team with 10 and nine tackles, respectively.

GAME 7

Dallas 23, at San Diego 9

Sunday, Oct. 15

The Chargers fell to 3-4 after losing to the Dallas Cowboys, 23-9. The Chargers played the game without the services of injured quarterback Stan Humphries. Once again turnovers proved to be too much to overcome as San Diego's first four drives were stopped by three interceptions and a fumble. Despite the turnovers, San Diego trailed just 14-2 at the half. The defense provided San Diego with a 2-0 lead in the first quarter courtesy of a Reuben Davis sack of Troy Aikman in the endzone for a safety. Dallas responded with two scoring drives and Emmitt Smith scored on runs of four and one yard, respectively. San Diego came out in the second half and scored on its first possession when Ronnie Harmon bolted 48 yards around right end to tighten the score, 14-9. But the Cowboys responded with a 14-play, 80-yard drive to extend their lead, 20-9. The Chargers penetrated Dallas territory just once in the fourth quarter as the Cowboys went on to seal the win with a final 30-yard field goal. San Diego outgained the Cowboys in total yardage, 333 yards to 320 yards, including 159 yards rushing. But four turnovers and nine penalties for 87 yards in losses set the Chargers back. Backup quarterback Gale Gilbert completed 20 of 32 passes for 206 yards, but threw a career-high three interceptions, lost a fumble and was sacked six times. Harmon caught a season-high eight passes for 52 yards and added 54 yards rushing on just three carries. Running back Natrone Means bulled his way for 90 yards on 22 attempts. Punter Darren Bennett continued to shine, averaging 54.3 yards on three punts for his third-consecutive game with a 50-plus average. Safeties Bo Orlando (10) and Shaun Gayle (nine) and linebacker Junior Seau (nine) led the team in tackles.

GAME 8

San Diego 35, at Seattle 25

Sunday, Oct. 22

The Chargers evened their record at 4-4 with a 35-25 win over the Seahawks in Seattle. Seattle scored first following an interception. San Diego rallied back on its next possession and drove 80 yards in nine plays and scored on a 12-yard pass from Stan Humphries to Ronnie Harmon. The extra point was blocked and the score stood at 7-6. A 46-yard run by Terrell Fletcher from punt formation was the key play of the drive. The Chargers scored on their next possession — a two-yard pass to Mark Seay — but the two-point attempt failed. The defense came through with the next score when Shaun Gayle recovered a fumble in the endzone. Again the two-point try failed and the score was 18-7. Seattle tightened the score, 18-10, but San Diego marched 75 yards on seven plays and took a 25-10 lead at the half on a seven-yard Natrone Means run. Seattle opened the second half by driving 76 yards and closing the gap, 25-16. Dwayne Harper picked off a Rick Mirer pass and lateraled to Bo Orlando who ran 37 yards to the Seahawks' 26-yard line. San Diego scored five plays later when Humphries hit Harmon again on a 23-yard scoring pass to give Harmon his first two-touchdowns-receiving game of his career. The teams traded field goals in the final period and Chris Warren scored from six yards out to make the final score, 35-25. Seattle outgained the Chargers in total yardage, 383 yards to 299, but San Diego forced four turnovers. The Chargers gained 153 yards rushing, led by Means' 91 yards. Humphries completed 14 of 26 passes for 166 yards, three touchdowns and one interception. Leslie O'Neal supplied 3.5 of the Chargers' seven sacks.

GAME 9

Miami 24, at San Diego 14

Sunday, Nov. 5

San Diego's record dropped to 4-5 following a 24-14 loss to the Miami Dolphins. The Chargers got bad news early in the game when running back Natrone Means suffered a groin strain on the fifth play of the game and did not return. The opening drive of the game did lead to a San Diego touchdown, but a holding call nullified the play and the Chargers settled for a 33-yard John Carney field goal. Miami took its first possession 70 yards in nine plays to take a 7-3 lead which it held until halftime. San Diego got a 39-yard field goal following its opening 14-play drive in the third quarter. But Miami went 66 yards for a touchdown to take a 14-6 lead. The Chargers marched right back and Stan Humphries hit Tony Martin on a 50-yard touchdown pass, the team's longest scoring play from scrimmage of the season to that point, and successfully completed the two-point conversion to tie the score at 14-14. After Miami scored on its third-straight possession and took a 17-14 lead, a deflected pass was intercepted and the Dolphins scored three plays later to make the score 24-14. San Diego fumbled away its final possession. Miami outgained the Chargers in total yardage, 417 yards to 299. San Diego was held to 70 yards rushing. Ronnie Harmon led the team with 52 yards rushing on 14 carries. Martin caught seven passes for 121 yards and one score. Miami's Bernie Parmalee gained 103 yards rushing, only the fourth player to exceed 100-yards rushing against the Chargers since Bobby Ross became head coach in 1992.

GAME 10

Kansas City 22, at San Diego 7 Sunday, Nov. 12

The Chargers lost at home to the Kansas City Chiefs, 22-7, giving the team five losses in the last six games. The loss dropped San Diego's record to 4-6, five games behind the division-leading Chiefs. The teams traded touchdowns in the first quarter. Kansas City drove 59 yards in nine plays for a score and San Diego went 80 yards in eight plays to tie the score, 7-7. Rodney Culver carried four times for 27 yards and a one-yard scoring run on the drive. The Chiefs added two field goals in the second period to make the score, 13-7, at halftime. Kansas City put together a 12-play, 82-yard drive for a touchdown in the third quarter and another 12-play, 61-yard drive for a field goal in the final period to finish the scoring. Kansas City controlled the ball with its running game. The Chiefs notched 166 yards on the ground, the most rushing yards against San Diego since the Jets gained 181 yards Dec. 3, 1989. Without an injured Natrone Means, the Chargers gained 70 yards rushing, led by Culver's 34 yards. Stan Humphries completed 21 of 42 passes for 244 yards. Ronnie Harmon caught six passes for 96 yards. Leslie O'Neal recorded a sack to give him 100.5 in his career.

GAME 11

at Denver 30, San Diego 27 Sunday, Nov. 19

Despite rallying back to tie the score, 27-27, in the final period after falling behind, 21-0, early in the first quarter, the Chargers lost to the Denver Broncos, 30-27, on a last-second field goal. The loss dropped San Diego to 4-7 and last place in the AFC West. Denver jumped out on top early when it scored three touchdowns and a field goal on its first four possessions. The Chargers came fighting back after Andre Coleman returned a kickoff 91 yards to make the score 21-7. The teams traded two field goals each in the second and third periods to tighten the score to 27-13 heading into the final period. The Chargers marched down the field on two long drives, the first one ending with a 12-yard touchdown pass from Stan Humphries to Ronnie Harmon. On the following drive, Rodney Culver scored from four yards out and the score was deadlocked, 27-27. But the Broncos put the game away with a 32-yard Jason Elam field goal with :02 remaining. With five catches in the game, Harmon became the fifth running back in NFL history to catch 500 passes in his career. Andre Coleman's kickoff return for a touchdown was the third of his career, the most ever by any Chargers' player.

GAME 12

at San Diego 12, Oakland 6

Monday, Nov. 27

Sparked by three interceptions by cornerback Dwayne Harper, the Chargers held the potent Raiders' offense in check and defeated Oakland, 12-6, in front of a nationally-televised Monday Night Football audience. It was the Chargers first win in four weeks and improved San Diego's record to 5-7. The Raiders opened the scoring with a 30-yard field goal after their first possession. The Chargers got on the scoreboard twice in the second period when John Carney hit field goals from 39 and 24 yards out to give the Chargers a 6-3 lead going into the locker room at halftime. The Raiders got the ball first in the second half and drove down to the Chargers' 20-yard line before Harper's first interception of the night stopped the Oakland drive at the 11-yard line. The Chargers' offense responded by marching 80 yards on 19 plays and eating up 13 minutes and 38 seconds before Carney gave San Diego a 9-3 lead with a 28-yard field goal. The Raiders tightened the score, 9-6, with a 26-yard field goal on their first possession of the fourth quarter. Carney added a 38-yard field goal to finish the scoring. Harper sealed the win with his third interception on the Raiders' final possession. Harper's three interceptions tied a team single-game record and were the most by a Chargers' player since Pete Shaw intercepted three passes at Cincinnati on Nov. 2, 1980. Harper also led the defense with 12 tackles and three passes defended. Quarterback Stan Humphries tied a season-high completion percentage by completing 24 of 34 passes (.706) for 236 yards. The game marked the first time that the Chargers and Raiders faced each other and neither team scored a touchdown since Oct. 5, 1975, when Oakland defeated San Diego, 6-0.

Sunday, Dec. 3

The Chargers won their second consecutive game and improved their record to 6-7 with a 31-13 win over the Cleveland Browns. The Chargers dominated the line of scrimmage, amassing a season-high 186 yards rushing while holding the Browns to just 26 yards on the ground, a season-low for any Chargers' opponent. The Chargers also recorded two sacks while giving up none. San Diego set the tone early by forcing a fumble on the opening kickoff to give the Chargers the ball on the Browns' 23-yard line. The Chargers stuffed the ball into the endzone by rushing five times, the last three yards coming on a touchdown run by rookie running back Aaron Hayden to give the Chargers an early, 7-0, lead. After the teams traded field goals, Hayden gave the Chargers a 17-3 lead going into the locker room with his second rushing touchdown of the day with 41 seconds left in the half. The Browns tightened the score, 17-10, in the third quarter before San Diego once again took control when Stan Humphries hit Tony Martin with a 25-yard touchdown pass in the final period. A 16-yard touchdown run by rookie Terrell Fletcher and a Browns' field goal made the final score 31-13. Hayden set career-highs with 32 carries for 127 yards and two touchdowns. It was the most yards by a Chargers' back in the regular season since Marion Butts rushed for 159 yards versus the New York Jets on Dec. 2, 1990. Martin finished the day with nine receptions for 132 yards, his ninth career 100-yard day and third of the season. Humphries extended his streak of passes without an interception to 133. John Carney's field goal was the 146th of his career with the Chargers, which tied him with Rolf Benirschke for the club's all-time record.

GAME 14

at San Diego 28, Arizona 25

Saturday, Dec. 9

Despite suffering six turnovers which led to all of Arizona's points, the Chargers kept their playoff hopes alive by winning their third consecutive game with a 28-25 victory over the Cardinals to even the Chargers' record at 7-7. San Diego got on the scoreboard first when Stan Humphries hit a wide-open Mark Seay for a 15-yard touchdown pass early in the second quarter. But Arizona came storming back with a touchdown pass of its own to even the score, 7-7. The Cardinals took a 14-7 lead when defensive end Clyde Simmons batted a Humphries' pass into the air, intercepted it and rumbled 25 yards into the endzone. Humphries made amends on the next drive by leading the Chargers on a 12-play, 89-yard drive in just 1:44 which culminated in a three-yard touchdown pass from Humphries to Ronnie Harmon to tie the score, 14-14, going into halftime. Andre Coleman broke the game open when he returned the opening kickoff of the second half 92 yards for a touchdown. On their next offensive possession, San Diego took a 28-14 lead when Humphries threw his third touchdown pass of the day, hitting Seay on a 38-yard strike. A third-quarter field goal and a late Arizona touchdown and two-point conversion rounded out the scoring. Humphries completed 26 of 41 passes for 288 yards and three touchdowns, but tied a career-high with four interceptions. Seay had a season-high seven catches for 114 yards and two scores. It was his second career 100-yard game. Coleman's kickoff return for a touchdown was the fourth of his career, extending his own club record.

GAME 15

San Diego 27, at Indianapolis 24

Sunday, Dec. 17

The Chargers kept their four-game winning streak and playoff hopes alive with a dramatic, 27-24 win over the Colts. The win improved San Diego's record to 8-7. The Colts opened the scoring with a first-period field goal, but the Chargers retaliated when Stan Humphries hit Tony Martin with a 51-yard strike to give San Diego a 7-3 lead. Indianapolis re-took the lead when Jim Harbaugh hit Ken Dilger in the endzone to give the Colts a 10-7 lead at the half. Andre Coleman once again provided the spark for the Chargers, returning a punt 29 yards to the Colts 29-yard line. Eight plays later Humphries was successful on the quarterback sneak from the one-yard line to put San Diego ahead, 14-10. Indianapolis tightened the score, 14-13, before Humphries found Martin again with a 38-yard score to give San Diego a 21-13 lead. The Colts tied the score, 21-21, on a one-yard run and two-point conversion. The teams traded field goals and with :45 seconds left the Chargers had the ball on their own 25-yard line. Five plays and 50 yards later, kicker John Carney lined-up and nailed a 43-yard field goal to seal the 27-24 win with :03 left on the clock. Martin had his fourth 100-yard game of the season and tenth of his career with 10 catches for 168 yards and two touchdowns. The Chargers survived 10 penalties and an interception deep in their own territory to hold on for the win. With two field goals, Carney improved his career total to 148 with the Chargers, surpassing Rolf Benirschke's club record of 146.

GAME 16
San Diego 27, at New York Giants 17
Saturday, Dec. 23

The Chargers clinched their third postseason appearance in four seasons under Head Coach Bobby Ross when they scored 24-unanswered points in the second half to defeat the Giants, 27-17. The victory came on Ross' 59th birthday and improved the team's record in December under Ross to 12-4. In 36-degree temperatures and under a barrage of in-coming snowballs, San Diego struggled early and fell behind in the first half, 17-3. On the second play of the team's second offensive series, quarterback Stan Humphries sustained a concussion and a sprained neck and left the game for good. The Chargers managed just 64 total yards in the first half, including just 10 yards rushing. The second half belonged to the Chargers. San Diego's defense forced and recovered a fumble in the half's opening series and rookie Aaron Hayden later scored on an eight-yard run to tighten the score, 17-10. The Chargers first possession of the fourth quarter produced a 12-play, 55-yard drive which was culminated by an eight-yard touchdown run by Rodney Culver on a fourth-and-two play. With the score tied, 17-17, New York proceeded to march to the Chargers' 12-yard line only to see Shaun Gayle intercept a pass and return it 99 yards for the go-ahead score. John Carney added a 45-yard field goal to seal the victory. Tony Martin had four catches to increase his total to 90 for the season and set a new team record, surpassing Kellen Winslow's record of 89 set in 1980. Junior Seau led the defense with 13 tackles, one fumble recovery, one pass defense and one quarterback pressure.

GAME 17

AFC Divisional Playoff Game

Indianapolis 35, at San Diego 20

Sunday, Dec. 31, 1995

San Diego outgained Indianapolis in total yardage, 429 yards to 333, but the Colts chalked up 178 yards rushing, including 147 yards and two touchdowns by rookie running back Zack Crockett, on their way to a 35-20 win. The teams alternated scores and the lead exchanged hands six times. Indianapolis scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to seal the win. The Chargers got on the scoreboard first when John Carney hit a team postseason record 54-yard field goal. The Colts responded with a two-yard touchdown pass from Jim Harbaugh to Ken Dilger to make the score 7-3. The Chargers went back on top, 10-7, when Stan Humphries hit Al Pupunu with a six-yard scoring pass. Indianapolis led at halftime, 14-10, courtesy of a 33-yard run by Crockett. San Diego re-took the lead, 17-14, in the third quarter when Humphries hooked up with Shawn Jefferson on an 11-yard scoring toss. Once again the Colts stormed back when Harbaugh hit Sean Dawkins with a 42-yard scoring strike to give the Colts a 21-17 lead. The Colts put the game away in the fourth quarter with two touchdown runs, a 66-yarder by Crockett and three-yarder by Harbaugh. Humphries finished the day with 292 yards passing and two touchdowns, but four interceptions proved costly.

1996 Important Dates

- July 15 – Signing period ends at 1 p.m. (PT) for Unrestricted Free Agents to whom June 1 tender was made by Old Club, transition Players, and Franchise Players who are subject to the rules for Transition Players. After this date and through 1 p.m. on Nov. 5, Old Club has exclusive negotiating rights to these players.
- Aug. 2 – If a drafted rookie has not signed with his club by this date, he may not be traded to any other club in 1996.
- Aug. 20 – Roster cutdown to maximum of 60 players on Active List by 1 p.m. (PT).
- Aug. 25 – Roster cutdown to maximum of 53 players on Active/Inactive List by 1 p.m. (PT). Clubs may dress a minimum of 42 and maximum of 45 players and third quarterback for each game.
- Aug. 26 – Beginning at 1 p.m. (PT), clubs may establish a Practice Squad of five players by signing free agents who do not have an accrued season of free-agency credit, unless that season was achieved by spending an entire regular season on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.
- Aug. 30 – All clubs are required to identify their 49-player Active List by 4 p.m. (PT) on this Friday and thereafter on each Friday before a regular-season game (or at 4 p.m. PT two days prior to non-Sunday games). No later than one hour and 15 minutes prior to kickoff, clubs must identify their 45-player Active List and Third Quarterback, if any.
- Sept. 1-2 – Regular-season opens.
- Sept. 17 – Priority on multiple waiver claims is now based on 1996 standings.
- Oct. 8 – All trading ends at 1 p.m. (PT).
- Oct. 9 – Players with at least four previous pension credits are subject to the waiver system for the remainder of regular season and postseason.
- Nov. 5 – Deadline for clubs to sign by 1 p.m. (PT) their Unrestricted Free Agents, Restricted Free Agents and draft choices to whom June 1 tender was made. If still unsigned after this date, such players are prohibited from playing in NFL in 1994.
- Dec. 28 – Wild Card Playoff Games.
- Dec. 29 – Wild Card Playoff Games.
- Jan. 4-5 – Divisional Playoff Games.
- Jan. 12 – AFC and NFC Championship Games.

CHARGERS' RADIO, TELEVISION

XTRA Sports 690, the 77,000-watt sports voice of Southern California, is the flagship station of the expanded San Diego Chargers' radio network. XTRA's nine-hour game-day broadcast is the longest in the NFL and can be heard during all 21 Chargers' preseason and regular-season games.

Chargers' games also can be heard in Spanish on XEXX Radio (1420 AM) in San Diego.

KGTV, Channel 10, an affiliate of the American Broadcasting Company, will telecast three of the Chargers' five preseason games. The Chargers' Aug. 3 game at Minnesota will be shown live in San Diego beginning at 5 pm. The Chargers' lone home preseason game on Aug. 17 versus Arizona will be shown live if it sells out at least 72 hours prior to kickoff. The Chargers' preseason finale at St. Louis Aug. 23 will be shown live in San Diego at 5 pm.

LEE HAMILTON

Hamilton returns for tenth season as voice of the Chargers... handles play-by-play and anchors XTRA's nine-hour gameday broadcast... hosts two-hour pregame show, Countdown to Kickoff... also host of "Sportsnite" on XTRA from 4-8 p.m. on weekdays... voted one of top sports talk show hosts in country by Inside Sports, Sports Illustrated, and USA Today... also a weekly contributor to "Chargers Live" on Monday nights on KGTV.

JIM LASLAVIC

Laslavic returns for ninth year as color analyst while anchoring pregame Tailgate Talk Show and Half-time Huddle... 10-year veteran NFL linebacker with Detroit, Green Bay, and San Diego... sports director and lead anchor for KNSD-TV.
